

2018 health care spending up due to higher prices

March 10 2020

Average employer-sponsored insurance spending rose to $5,892 per person in 2018, according to the Health Care Cost Institute annual Health Care Cost and Utilization Report.

To assess the trends within four categories of service (inpatient admissions; outpatient visits and procedures; professional services; and prescription drugs), the authors of the report used deidentified claims data for 160 million U.S. individuals (

Citation: 2018 health care spending up due to higher prices (2020, March 10) retrieved 26 January 2024 from <https://medicalxpress.com/news/2020-03-health-due-higher-prices.html>

This document is subject to copyright. Apart from any fair dealing for the purpose of private study or research, no part may be reproduced without the written permission. The content is provided for information purposes only.